THE PLOT REVEALED.

LYNCHING OF TENNESSEE NEGROES UNEARTHED MR. M'CARVER.

He Tells the Grand Jury the Whole Plan After Being Threatened to Be Sent to Jail—His Story Implicates Those Already Arrested—He Goes to Jail In Default of Bail.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 10.—The whole plot of the lynching of six alleged negro incendiaries near Millington, Tenn., on the night of Aug. 31 has been laid bare, and before many hours elapse every man implicated in the conspiracy will be in jail.

Robert McCarver, son of J. A. McCarver, sheriff of Shelby county, is the man who exposed the conspirators. He was called before the grand jury Saturday and told the whole story. Young McCarver at first refused to testify, being afraid of the lynchers, but when given the alternative of going to jail for contempt of court or revealing the plot he chose the latter. Young McCarver in his testimony before the grand jury said that he was invited to participate in the massacre of the negroes by H. N. Smith, one of the men now in the county jail under indictment for murder in the first degree for complicity in the lynching. Smith gave McCarver the names of the men who would compose the mob, and told how the negroes would be arrested by Detective W. S. Richardson, placed in a wagon and then driven to Big creek swamp, where the mob would be in waiting.

When the invitation to assist in the assassination was tendered to young McCarver it was represented that his father knew all about it and that Judge Cooper of the criminal court was not in the dark.

These representations were untrue and were made by Smith with the intention, if possible, of mixing Sheriff McCarver up in the affair through his son so that his hands would be tied if an investigation should be instituted by the authorities.

Young McCarver declined to join the mob, but the lynching came off on schedule time. McCarver disclosed the detailed of the plot to Joseph Thiers, Chris Huffman and William Cox, and it was from Thiers and Huffman that the grand jury obtained its first information about the plot.

Cox denied all knowledge of the affair and was indicted for perjury. Criminal Judge Cooper after learning of McCarver's confession, ordered him placed under $10,000 bond to insure his presence at the trial, but McCarver being unable to furnish bail was sent to jail.

Vigilantes at Work.

OMAHA, Sept. 10.—Notices have been received by a majority of the ranchers of the Sand hills in the vicinity of Perry county, Nebraska, from a secret vigilance committee looking to measures to prevent crime in that part of the state. This is the result of three recent murders in the hills and no arrests. It is understood that suspicious characters are to be forced to leave the Sand hills.

Killed In Jail by a Mob.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—A special from Minden, La., says: Link Waggoner, the noted outlaw and murderer, was killed in jail here Saturday night by a mob of armed men, who forced their way in. He showed pluck to the last, and faced the crowd, cursing them with his last breath. He was shot 13 times.

Shot and Killed.

LUBBOCK, Tex., Sept. 10.—News has reached here of the killing of a man named Tom Ballard, which occurred about 60 miles west of this place in Cochran county. A party of horse drovers were camped at a syndicate windmill when a dispute arose between Ballard and a youth of 16 or 17 years old, which resulted in Ballard being shot and instantly killed. The slayer, whose name is not known, decamped in the direction of New Mexico. Officers are in pursuit.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—Captain Moore of the steamer Sedge Moore reported that on Sept. 4 at 6:30 a. m. he picked up two men in a dory belonging to the fishing vessel L. N. B. of St. Malo, France. Smuggling Vessel Sold.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 10.—The steamer Hayti Republica, which figures conspicuously in the late smuggling trials, and which has been held by the government for over a year under libel, has been sold at auction by United States Marshal Grady. The vessel was bid in by Captain John Ross, her former master, for $15,000.

COMTE DE PARIS DEAD.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Comte de Paris died at the Stowe House, his London residence, at 8:40 Saturday morning. The disease from which he suffered was given out by the physicians as cancer of the stomach, but it will probably require an autopsy to determine the exact cause of his death.

The death scene one of quiet and peace

on part of Comte and profound emotion to the circle of relatives about the bedside. The family and old servants of the family were all in attendance and to each head of the royal house of France early in the night he feebly said a few words of farewell, after which the family knelt at the bedside and offered heartfelt prayers for the dying. He then became too weak to speak, though his mind was evidently clear, and slowly passed away.

The remains will be buried at Weybridge, Surrey. From this it is inferred the French government refused to grant permission for the interment to take place at Dreux.

SOME HORRIBLE SIGHTS.

Bodies of Victims Buried In Pine Boxes Without Identification.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 6.—A St. Paul Pioneer-Press special from Pine City divides the fatalities as follows:

At Hinckley and vicinity, 225.
At Sandstone, 67.
At Pokegama, 25.
At Miller, 13.
Estimate of dead not found, 50.
Total, 379.

The Hinckley horror is dawning in its awful magnitude. There are now lying in the cemetery under a shallow covering of sand or in the rude rough boxes which take the place of caskets 216 bodies.

F. G. Webber of Pine City, who has had entire charge of the interment has had his work well in hand and has kept most accurate accounts of the bodies. These figures are his and includes those buried by friends. Four trenches in all have been opened, separated by about four feet. Commencing on the south in the north trench are 45 unboxed corpses. In trench No. 2 are 20 boxes, many containing from two to five bodies. The trench is not yet closed. In the third are 27 boxes like the others. The fourth trench is not yet in use, but there are piled up 19 bodies which will be put in.

Some think that at least 200 settlers in camps in the vicinity of Sandstone and Hinckley are yet to be found.

POKEGAMA, Minn., Sept. 8.—The bodies of 23 Chippewa Indians, bucks and squaws and papooses has been located between here and Opstead on Lac Mills Lacs. The Indians were a party which left the reservation in July, and built a hunting lodge on one of the forks of Shadey creek. Chief Wauconta of the party perished with his followers.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS.

A NUMBER OF PERSONS KILLED AND MANY BADLY INJURED.

A Mail Train Dashes Into a Coal Car In Illinois and the California Express Runs Into an Open Switch In New Mexico—Sawmill Boiler Explodes In the Province of Quebec.

STAUNTON, Ills., Sept. 10.—Train No. 42, the Toledo fast mail on the Wabash road, was wrecked near the city limits Friday night and two men were killed. Their names are:

The following were injured: Flannigan, engineer, scalded and leg broken; C. A. Samms, foot broken and scalded; will recover.

A freight train was doing some switching on the side track and the train broke, part of it running on the main track just as the mail train, which at the time was making 40 miles an hour, came up. The engineer and fireman had not time to jump and the engine crashed through a loaded coal car and then fell to the side of the track. One mail car, next to the engine, was splintered. The baggage car had the front end knocked out. The passenger coaches and sleepers were not damaged.

Two tramps stealing a ride between the tender and first mail car were instantly killed. One of them cannot be identified, while the other had on his person a time book in which was written: "My name is James W. Dixon. If anything happens notify my aunt, Jennie Dixon, at Taylorville."

Engineer Flannigan is probably fatally injured. He is scalded about the head and chest, has a cut across his forehead, has one leg broken in three places and is otherwise bruised. He was knocked out of his cab and thrown completely over the wrecked mail car and was picked up unconscious on the other side of the track.

Fireman C. A. Samms is seriously but not fatally hurt. He has his face cut and chest and foot broken. He says the accident happened so quick that he had no recollection of how he got under the debris or how he got out.

California Express Wrecked.

RATON, N. M., Sept. 10.—The California express, westbound on the Santa Fe was ditched at Dillon Junction, near here Friday night. The engine, baggage car, mail and express cars are completely demolished. The engine is on its side 20 feet from the track. The following are the injured:

Fireman Joe Meaden, slightly bruised about the body.

Mail Clerk C. R. Balbridge, bruised about the face and body, left leg badly crushed, may have to be amputated.

Mail Clerk Russell, severe cut about the head.

The cause of the wreck was an open switch.

Sawmill Boiler Explodes.

Arnold, of Elmira, went driving Saturday and were struck by a train on the south bridge of the New York and New England railroad and instantly killed. The bodies were thrown over 100 feet and were horribly mangled. The wagon was demolished and was found about 50 feet from the track.

Two Killed and Several Injured.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Sept. 10.—In a collision in the Hoosac tunnel on the Fitchburg road two men were killed and several injured. Smoke and a disabled freight caused the wreck.

Ten Persons Killed.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 10.—Ten persons were killed and 20 injured by the wreck of the Paris and Cologne express train yesterday. The accident happened at Apilly and was caused by a collision of the express train with a freight train, which was being shunted. The engineer saw the danger ahead and reversed his engine. This had the effect of reducing the speed and rendering the accident less severe than it would otherwise have been. As it was the wreck was a very disastrous one.

Three Children Cremated.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 10.—In Perry county, Friday night, John S. Paine, a farmer, went to church with his wife, leaving their three children locked up at home. When they returned the house was in ashes and in the debris were found the charred bodies of the children.

COUGHED DAY AND NIGHT.

Three years ago, I was so sick I could not eat, sleep or walk, for I coughed all day and night; my weight was reduced from 150 to 127 pounds. The first night that I slept four hours at one time, was after I had taken three doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The offensive matter, supposed to be consumption, grew less every day and when I had taken the whole of one bottle I could sleep all night without coughing, and have been well ever since and weigh 176 pounds.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan, 809 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. U. M. Browder.

BAILEY said he did not like the anti-option bill.

BLUSTER, buncombe, blatherskite, bankrupt, bosh Bailey.

THE increase in the public debt between Jan. I, 1873, and Aug, 1, 1894, was $80,000,000.

MONDAY, in the local option election, Van Alstyne went 142 to 101 in favor of local option.

BAILEY, the man who is loaded down with explanations is abroad in the land, giving the lie to his "persecutors."

BAILEY said that he was not good enough to belong to church but that he was better than Browder.

BAILEY doesn't know how the government can buy railroads but he knows how it can pay for "clerk hire."

ON the 8th inst., the Comte de Paris, head of the royal house of France, died in exile in London.

ROBERT J. who recently lowered Nancy Hank's world pacing record, has lowered his own time by pacing one mile in 2:1-2.

IKE STANDIFER, Judge Bledsoe the McKinney Enquirer and many other democrats had an "opinion" of Joe Bailey in 1890.

BAITEY said that he cared nothing for free coal and iron. Thus on another subject Bailey is out of harmony with his party.

T. P. Gore, the blind boy orator from Mississippi, delivered a masterly populist speech Friday night, in Dallas. He is certainly a wonderful character.

ATTORNEY Gen. Maloney of Illinois, has brought suit against the Pullman Palace car company for selling liquors in its cars without license.

"When Dr. Browder goes to h—l he will find many mean democrats there, but the republicans and populists will be in a majority."—Joe Bailey.

It will be well not to hasten to believe all the rumors that come from the seat of the Chinese war. Some of them are almost as unreliable as the democracy of a "conservative senator."—New Yoak Word.

BROWDER called on all those who had ever written to Bailey to hold up their hands. Two hands went up. Browder remarked that $100 per month was rather expensive to keep up such a small correspondence.

ALL fair minded attendants at the Browder-Bailey debate at Copeville say that Browder was dispassionate, logical and courteous while Bailey was bitter, illogical, arrogant, and discourteous.

Be careful, Bulldozer Bailey, that, in your efforts to drive Elder Browder back to the pulpit, you don't monkey around and get driven back yourself—back under the protecting care of a wealthy relative.

IF Bailey doesn't curb his implacable hatred and insolent deportment while on the platform, ladies will be forced to refrain from attending the debates between himself and Dr. Browder.

JOE BAILEY says that Cleveland is not a democrat on the money question. How in the werld can Bailey swallow the state platform because it endorses Cleveland's every official act?

BAILEY said that he preferred to consult the tariff bill to get the amount of reduction than to take Corlisle's or any other man's opinion. Wonder how much Bailey's opinion is worth on the political market at Washington.

"I am better than Browder."—J. W. Bailey.

Now, now, "Joey," becoming modesty debars a high toned "gentleman" like you of praising himself like that. Tut, tut, "Joey," preserve your dignity while in company anyhow.

"I would to God that I were good enough to belong to the church."—J. W. Bailey.

Now, "Joey," you don't mean that, for if you were a fit subject for the church, according to your doctrine, that very fact would deprive you the privilege of running for congress.

BAILEY declared at Copeville that the editor of THE DEMOCRAT was not a populist and that Cleveland was not a democrat on the money question. This statement will likely cause Cleveland to resign and the editor of THE DEMOCRAT to "throw up the sponge."

BAILEY says that there are $6,000,000,000 of railroad bonds in the United States. How can the corporations handle such a debt? Bailey says the whole people—the government is unable to handle it. Bailey has not learned that the whole is greater than the part.

BAILEY'S demeanor and bulldozing tactics towards his opponent, who is a courteous, christian gentleman of the highest type, is disgusting to a person of any culture whatever, and is making more votes for Browder than anything Browder could do or say himself.

KIND reader, regardless of your political proclivities, we humbly invite you to consult any authority on rules and usages of public discussion, and impartially decide for yourselves which one of the principles in the Browder-Bailey debates is the gentleman.

BROWDER referred to "atter" of roses being on the free list. Bailey in his rejoinder said that he did not know the meaning of the term but he knew how to spell it. He said that it was spelled "ottar." If Bailey will refer to Webster's dictionary he will find that "atter" is the leading way to spell the word. Joe, you had better go back to school before you criticise Dr, Browder again.

WE hold to the use of the old multiplication table and to the time honored rule that twice two make four, and we believe that twice two make five." That sounds supremely ridiculous, but it is not one whit more so than the financial plank of the Sherman platform.—Denison Herald, (Dem.)

THE Union Pacific railway corporation has issued an order forbidding its employes from actively participating in politics. It is now in order for "honest" Grover to immediately station troops along this mammoth system to enforce this mandate and protect the "liberties" and inalienable "rights" of the Union Pacific syndicate.

YES the populist party is made up of office seekes, all the office seekers in the land, to hear the little, puny, brazen faced cemocratic stump speakers tell it, belong to the populist party. As proof of this luminious truth they should point with pride to the numerous deadlocked democratic congressional canventions.

VOTERS of the 5th congressional district, as gentlemen of honor, truth, and morality, whom will you have to represent you in the next congress, in the highest legislative body in your land? Do you want a gedtleman of the highest type, a character unspotted, pure and animated by the highest motives and sincerest sympathy for all his fellowman? or do you want a professional partisan, reeking with prejudice and arrogant intolerance of those who honestly differ with him? Choose voters which one of these characters you will have to assist in making laws under which not only you yourselves, but your children must live.

Browder-Bailey Appointments.

McKinney, Collin Co., Tex., Sept. 1.—The following was handed the News reporter:

Hon. J. W. Bailey will address the voters of Collin county at the following times and places: Blue Ridge, Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 1:30 in the evening: Farmersville, Wednesday, Sept. 19, at 1 in the evening; Plano, Thursday, Sept. 20, at 1 in the evening; Weston, Friday, Sept. 21, at 1 o'clock in he evening; McKinney, Saturday, Sept. 22, at 1 o'clock in the evening.

Hon. U. M. Browder, his opponent, is invited to be present for the purpose of a joint discussion of the political issues."

The above appointments were sent out without Mr. Bailey consulting Mr. Browder, as per former agreement, but we are pleased to state that Mr. Browder will be on hand at each place designated above and cheerfully join in discussion with Mr. Bailey upon the political issues now engaging the minds of the people. Our friends will please advertise these meetings well and urge the people to be on hand.

BAILEY, realizing the hopelessly inharmonious condition of his party on all leading questions at issue, designedly instituted his campaign for reelection, a campaign of bitter personalities and abuses of his opponent, who, as he thinks, being a true christian gentleman, will be disgusted and overawed and will quit the race without even calling in question the stewardship of Bailey's incompetent party. If this was Bailey's intention which it evidently was, we will emphasize the fact which he has already realized to his great discomfort on the rostrum before now, that he is badly mistaken. He has an opponent whose record is blameless, and whose name is without a stain; he has an opponent whose convictions are as sincere as a martyr's and whose courage to assert them is as firm as the ages; he has an opponent who, if our congressman does not feel inclined to meet in honorable discussion can stoop to personalities if driven to it, and we do not hesitate to say that if Bailey persists in this, he is going to be beaten at his own game; mark the prediction. Fair play is what the populists want for their candidate, and fair play is what they are going to have.

As a pack of inconsistencies and a mess of muddled up confusion the democratic party certainly takes the cake. Just reflect a moment, intelligent reader and think, here for instance is R. Q. Mills preaching monometalism with all his might and main trying to convince the people that the democratic party is not a free silver party and all who advocate free silver are not democrats, but populists, while not more than 150 miles away, and in the same state at that, Congressman Bailey is making the welkin ring with his vehement protestations that the democratic party is the only free silver party and whoever says it "aint" is no democrat and a "contemptible liar." Now this is a fair sample of the unanimity of the great leaders of the democratic party in their interpretation of its fundamental principles. Both of these democratic solons are exhorting you to support one and the same ticket, while at the same time they are advocating and committing their party to principles as radically opposite as are the poles. What is the case with Mills and Bailey as to agreement in interpreting the demscratic platforms, is the case with all the other leaders, in fact their ambiguous platforms were constructed with deception written on their faces in order that they might be construed to fit anything or to mean anything and to catch votes. It is unmitigated brazeness and a presumption upon the intelligence of the people to ask them to support such a crazy quilt contraptions as the democratic platforms are,

AGUE CAKE.

People who have been much afflicted with malaria or fever and ague are very liable to have a fullness or enlargement of the left side just under the ribs. This is commonly called in malarial districts ague cake. This fulness is due to enlargement of the spleen, caused by the malaria. The enlarged spleen presses against the heart above, causing palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath. It also presses against the stomach and bowels, causing disturbed digestion, bloating, constipation, gargling in left side, and a formation of great quantities of gas.

As long as there is a particle of the malarial poison left in the system, not only will the ague cake continue to disturb the function of the other organs, but the enlarged organs tends to perpetuate the poison in the system,

It seems to be a settled fact that Pe-ru-na is the most reliable, if not the only, remedy that can be relied on to cleanse the system in cases of chronic malaria. It never fails to bring relief to these disagreeable symtoms, and if a regular course of Pe-ru-na is taken it does not fail to permanently cure.

In order to furnish the public a complete knowledge of the effect of Peruna in old cases chronic malaria The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufactnring Company of Columbus, Ohio, have published an illustrated pamphlet on chronic malaria, which will be sent to any address.

BAILEY'S DENIALS

"Then Mr. Browder quoted from The McKinney Democrat the following, which Joe Bailey denounced as a 'lie:'

"If Cleveland is a democrat, the democratic party has beeh wrong for a hundred years.—J. W. Bailey.

Then Mr. Bailey undertook to explain by saying that, "the editor of the McKinney Democrat is a liar. This is what I did say: I said "If Cleveland was right on the money question, the democratic party had been wrong for a hundred years, and I say that yet."—Gainesville Signal.

The above is from a report of the Browder-Bailey discussion at Gainesville on Saturday, Sept. 1. Just why Mr. Bailey should go so far to forget the dignity of his position as to engage in such talk before an intelligent public we are unable to say.

We want to inform Mr. Bailey that we quoted his language just as we under stood it without any intention of misquoting and we wish to reiterate that when he charges us with lying, he utters what is false himself. Grant, however, for argument's sake, that he used the language in his "explanations," we are willing for an impartial public to judge as to what extent we have "lied." Mr. Baily knows full well that in the same speech at McKinney he denounced Cleveland ites as "John Sherman democrats." Again in an interview published in the Dallas News of Aug. 3, 1893, Mr. Bailey used the following language: "To turn his back on the platform now and go over to the single gold standard side would be rank treason on the part of the president."

Now will Mr. Bailey "explain" just how Mr. Cleveland can be a democrat and at the same time be guilty of "rank treason?"

Mr. Bailey should not try to ride two horses which are traveling in opposite directions.

Copeville Speaking.

The Browder-Bailey discussion took place at Copeville, Thursday, before a large audience of populists and democrats. Dr. Browder was introduced by district chairman D. E. Lyday, of Bonham. Dr. Browder first took the tariff bill under consideration and exposed its inconsistencies He quoted extensively from democratic leaders and newspapers to ptove its unworthiness. He conceded all democrats to be honest no matter how badly they may be mistaken. He discussed the populist platform and dwelled a considerable time on alien ownership of land and transportation. He scored Bailey in regard to the clerk hire bill. and read an interview with Bailey in the Dallas News which caused Bailey to deny everything as being unauthorized in that paper unless it was published over his own sigature. Dr. Browder closed his opening speech in a manner that pleased his friends very much.

Hon. J. W. Bailey was introduced by Joe Lindsey. Mr. Bailey began by saying that he was going to drive Browder back to the pulpit where he belonged. In answer to Browder's attadk on democratic leaders he said that he would admit that there were many mean democrats, and that when Browder got to hell he would find them, but that the republicans and populists would be in a majority. He denounced the Dallas News as being a lying sheet. He declared the report false that he returned from Washington after the special session to expose the administration. As to the charge that he had said that "If Cleveland is a democrat the democratic party had been wrong for a hundred years," he declared it untrue, but explained what he did say was, 'If Cleveland is a democrat on the money question the democratic party had been wrong for a hundred years." He, however, thought that if Cleveland was 100 times worse than he is he would yet be better than any republican or poprlist. He boasted of congress repealing the odious election law and passing a bankrupt bill. He placed the reduction of tariff duties of the senate bill at nearly 22 per cent. He said that Browder should return th the pulpit and save souls. He (Bailey) was not good enough to be a church member but that he would rather be tne savior of souls than to be president of the United States. He predicted that the democratic party would never adopt Cleveland's policy. He was going to remain in the party of the fathers and would never join republicans, populists or single gold standard democrats. Although an eight hour law had passed congress he did not vote for it because he believed that it was wrong, that the laborer and the employer should be left free to make a contract and that the law recognized it a crime to work more than eight hours per day. He said that the populists refused to vote for silver when the ratio was increased above 16 to 1. That ratio was a mere matter of detail and that the populists would have 16 to 1 or nothing. He produced transcripts of of pension application and charged that Browder was drawing a $6 per month pension by false representations.

Dr. Browder in his reply of fifteen minutes put in some heavy blows against Bailey's statements. He admitted that he drew a pension of $6 per month. He had entered the service of the United States when only 15 years old and was captured and held in Libby prison for 100 days, that for this service he was drawing this pitiful sum out of the same treasury that Bailey was drawing $100 per month for "clerk hire" and a $5000 per year salary.

Both speakers were well received and the friends of each satisfied with results.

In Memmorium.

On the 6th inst. Addie M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Graves, died at the home of her parents, five miles west of McKinney, after an illness of thirteen days.

Addie was a kind, good girl, 16 years of age, just entering lovely womanhood when grim death mercilessly snatched her away from the bosoms of loved ones and consigned her beautiful form to the silent grave.

She professed religion and was baptised during the big meeting recently held at Bowlby and lived in the full enjoyment of her faith since that happy event, from which her relatives and friends gather sweet consolation.

With the words, "God bless you mother, meet me in heaven," her young spirit, fair and untainted by any of the baneful influences of a wicked world, soared in triumph to the realms of the pure. Her remains were followed to the Herndon cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowing friends, and gently laid to rest until the final coming of her Lord.

Col. R. D. Allison will be 84 years old the 25th of September, 1894. He extends a public invitation to all surviving Mexican war veterans of Collin county to dine with him on that day. We hope the old vets will accept the colonel's kind invitation.

A M Baily, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Mrs. J. R. Cummins, for a number of years a resident of McKinney, died Friday at her residence in this city. Her remains were followed to the grave by one of the largest funeral processions ever seen in McKinney.

We understand a number of the young teachers that failed of their highest ambitions in the late Petersburg examination for certificates, will again subject themselves to the trying mental ordeal, this month, in hopes of securing a better grade. May success attend them.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F J Cheney & Co, Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Teey offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address

The crusade of education in our city has been begun by all her scools and judging from each school's corps of teachers it promises to be an unusually succeesful one. Then, too, the pupils, after the summer vacation seem to have greatly increased their stock of vigor and desire to meet and conquer ignorance in the schoolroom. The additional tax that has recently been levied will enable the bnblic schools to run a month or two longer, while the attendance at all the schools is splendid for a beginning, Summing everything, all in all, the prospects for a year of rapid, solid advancement is auspicious.

Irving W Larimore, physical director of Y M C A, Des Moines Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes gymnasts bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislecations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by H C Herndon.

Death of Hugh Branch.

After an illness of thirty-three days with typhoid fever, Hugh L., son of Hon. J. T. Branch, died September 6, 1894, at the residence of his father, in South McKinney.

Hugh was born in Murray county, Tennessee, December 8, 1878, and was not, therefore, quite sixteen years old when cruel death cut short his young life.

At the age of six Hugh came with his father to Texas and settled near Willow Springs, this county, where they resided until last year when they moved to McKinney.

As a schoolmate we knew him intimately, which was to love and esteem him. In the schoolroom and on the playground he was obedient, courteous and intelligent, enjoying alike the respect and love of both teachers and schoolmates, over whom his untimely death has thrown a pall of the deepest sadness.

Rev. Morris, of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral services at Forest Grove cemetery, where all that was mortal of a dear son, a loving brother, a kind friend and schoolmate was laid to rest, to sleep the sleep of ages.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by H. C. Herndon.

People's Party Texas Platform, 1894.

1. We heartily indorse the principles enunciated in the people's party platform adopted at Omaha, July 4, 1892.

2. We declare the people's party to be an anti-monopoly party and reiterate our opposition to the monopolization of the natural resources and public utility by individuals or corporations for speculative purposes.

3. We declare the monopolies of land, money and transportation to be the fruitful sources of social and industrial injustice, inequality and wrong, the parent of monopolies from whichall lesser monopolies spring, and to the end that these monopolies and their baneful consequences may be removed we advocate as appropriate measures of relief:

1. The abolition of all private banks of issne of every character, whether state or national.

2. The construction, ownership and operation of railroads by the government to the extent necessary to control and regulate rates.

3. The governmental owner ship and operation of all telephone and telegraph lines.

4. The free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver upon the ration of 16 to 1.

5. The issuance by the government of full legal tender paper money upon some system or plan which, while securing flexibility, shall so regulate the volume of the currency as to limit it to the actual needs of business.

6. We condemn emphatically the issue of gold bonds in time of peace to meet current expenses of the government.

7. We favor the building of the Nicaragua canal under proper treaty stipulation; provided it is built, owned and operated by our government in proper co operation with Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

8. We declare that the doctrine of a tariff for revenue is wrong in principle and we specially condemn the policy of free raw material while manufactured goods are protected.

9 All lands heretofore granted to individuals or corporations in which the grantees have not complied with the conditions of the grants should be forfeited to the state for homestead purposes.

10. No alien ownership of land should be allowed in Texas.

11. Corporations should not be allowed to own more land than they actually use in the prosecution of their business.

12. We favor an effective system of public free schools for six months in the year for all children between the ages of 6 and 18 years and that each race shall have its own trustees and control its own schools.

13. We demand the adoption of a uniform series of text books for the public schools to be furnished by the state at cost.

14. We demand an amendment to our state constitution authorizing the loaning of our public school funds, not otherwise invested, upon lands of the people of this state with proper limitations upon the quantity of land and the amount of money.

15. We demand reformation in the punishment of convicts, that convict labor may be taken out of competition with citizen labor; that convicts be given intellectual and moral instructions and that the earnings of the convict above the expenses of keeping shall go to his family.

16. We demand a free vote and an honest count.

MILLIONS WITHOUT WORK.

The Unequal Contest Between Man and Machine.

The Strong Devours the Weak—Is It Posible for a Man to be Satisfied With This Word as it Now is? An Address From the Eloquent Robt G. Ingersoll.

Invention has filled the world with competitors not only of laborers but of mechanics —mechanics of the highest skill. To day the ordinary laborer is, for the most part, a peg in the wheel. He works with the tireless—he feeds the insatiable. When the monster stops the man is out of employment—out of bread. He has not saved anything. The machine that he fed was feeding him—the invention was not for his benefit.

The other day I heard a man say that it was almost impossible for thousands of good mechanics to get employment, and that in his judgement the government ought to furnish work for the people. A few minutes later I heard another say that he was selling a patent for cutting out cloth, that one machine could do the work of twenty tailors and that only a week before he sold two to a great house in New York, and that over forty cutters had been discharged.

On every side men are being discharged and machines are being invented to take their places. When the great factory shuts down, the workers who inhabited it and gave it life, as thoughts to the brain, go away, and it stands there like an empty skull. A few workmen, by the force of habit, gather about the closed doors and broken windows and about distress, the price of food and the coming winter. They are convinced that they have not had their share of what their labor created. They feel certain the machines inside are not their friends They look at the union of the employer—but have nothing themselves. The employer seems to have enough. Even when employers fail—when they become bankrupt—they are far better off than the laborers ever were. Their worst is better than the toiler's best.

The capitalist comes forward with his specific. He tells the workingman that he must be economical—and yet, under the present system, economy would lessen wages. Under the great law of supply and demand every saving, frugal, self-denying workman is unconsciously doing what little he can do to reduce the compensation of himself and fellows. The slave who did not wish to run away helped to fasten chains on those who did. So the saving mechanic is a certificate that wages are high enough. Does the great law demand that every workman live on the least possible amount of bread? Is it his fate to work one day that he may get enough food to be able to work another? Is that to be his only hope—that and death?

Capital has always claimed, and still claims the right to comibne. Manufacturers meet and determine prices, even in spite of the great law of supply and demand. Have the laborers the same right to consult and combine? The rich meet in the bank, club room or parlor. Workingmen, when they combine gather in the street. All organized forces of society are against them. Capital has the army and navy, the legislature, the judicial and executive departments. When the rich combine it is for the purpose of "exchanging ideas." When the poor combine it is a "conspiracy." If they act in concert, if they really do something, it is a "mob." If they defend themselves it is "treason." How is it that the rich can control the departments of government? In this country the political power is equally divided among men. There are certainly more poor than rich. Why should the rich control? Why should not labor combine for the purpose of controlling the executive, legislative and judicial departments? Will they ever find how powerful they are? A cry comes from the oppressed, from the hungry, from the downtrodden, from the unfortunate, from the despised, from men who despair and from women who weep. There are times when mendicants become revolutionists—when a rag becomes a banner, under which the noblest and the bravest battle for right.

How are we to settle the unequal contest between man and machine? Will the machine finally go into partnership with the laborer? Can these forces of nature be controlled for the benefit of her suffering children? Will extravagance keep pace with ingenuity? Will the workmen become intelligent enough and strong enough to become owners of machines? Will these giants, these Titans, shorten or lengthen the hours of labor? Will they give leisure for the industrious, or will they make the rich richer and the poor poorer? Is man involved in the "general scheme" of things? Is there no pity, no mercy? Can man become intelligent enough to be generous, to be just, or does the same law or fact control him as controls the animal or vegetable world? The great oak steals the sunlight from the smaller trees. The strong animal devours the weak—everything at the mercy of the beak, and claw, and hoof, and tooth—of hand, and club, and brain, and greed—inequality, injustice everywhere, The poor horse standing in the street with dray, overworked overwhipped and underfed, when he sees other horses groomed to mirror, glistening with gold and silver, scorning with proud feet the very earth probably indulges in the usual socialistic reflections; and this same horse, worn out and old, deserted by his master, turned into the dusty road, leans his head on the topmost rail, looks at the donkeys in the field of clover, and feels like a nihilist.

In the days of cannibalism the strong devoured the weak —actually ate their flesh. In spite of all the laws that man had made, in spite of all the advances in science, the strong, the heartless still live on the weak, the unfortunate, the foolish. True, they do not eat their flesh or drink their blood but they live on their labor, on their self denial, their weariness and want, The poor man who deforms himself by toil, who labors for his wife and children through all his anxious, barren, wasted life—who goes to the grave without ever having had a luxury—has been the food of others. He has been devoured by his fellowmen. The poor woman living in the bare and lonely room, cheerless and fireless, sewing night and day to keep starvation from her child, is slowly being eaten by her fellowmen. When I take into consideration the agony of civilized life—the failures, the anxiety, the tears, the withered hopes, the bitter realities, the hunger, the crime, the humiliation, the shame—I am almost forced to say that cannibalism, after all is the most merciful form in which man has ever lived upon his fellow man.

It is impossible for a man with this world as it now is—no man can truly enjoy even what he earns—what he knows to be his own—knowing that millions of his fellow men are in misery and want. When we think of the famished we feel that it is almost heartless to eat. To meet the ragged and shivering makes one almost ashamed to be well dressed and warm—one feels as though his heart was as cold as their bodies,

In a world filled with millions of wealth and millions of land waiting to be tilled, where one man can raise the food for hundreds, yet millions are on the edge of famine. Who can comprehend the stupidity at the bottom of this truth?

Is there to be no change?

Are the laws of "supply and demand," invention and science, monopoly and competition, capital and legislation, always to be enemies of those who toil? Will the workers always be ignorant enough and stupid enough to give their earnings to the useless? Will they support millions of soldiers to kill the sons of other workingmen? Will they always build temples and live in huts and dens themselves? Will they forever allow parasites and vampires to live upon their blood? Will they remain the slaves of the beggers they support? Will honest men stop taking off their hats to successful fraud? Will industry, in the presence of crowned idleness, forever fall upon its knees—and will the lips unstained by lies forever kiss the robbers and imposter's hand? Will they they understand that beggars cannot be generous, and that every healthy man must earn the right to live? Will they finally say he that has had equal privileges with all others has no right to complain or will they follow the example that has been set by their oppressors? Will they learn that force, to succeed, must have thought behind it and that anything done, in order that it may succeed, must rest on justice?

GREAT TEXAS STATe FAIR 1894.

Opens October 20th, and Closes November 4th, at Dallas, Texas.

LABOR DAY AT THE FAIR.

Labor day at the fair will be October 31st. There will be a grand street parade in which the labor organizations will join. There will also be speaking at the fair grounds on that day, in which eminent labor leaders from abroad will take part. James R. Sovereign, General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, has already signified his intention of being at the fair on that day. Invitations have also been sent to E. V. Debs, Mrs. Mary E. Lease, and to Senator Peffer, of Kansas, to address the laboring people on labor day at the fair. Those who cannot take part in the exhibit to be made by organized labor at the fair, should at least be with us on labor day, and make the labor day parade one of the things to be remembered in Texas history. A special rate will be had from the railroads for that day, placing it within the means of the poorest to be in attendance. Judge Nugent, the populist candidate for governor, will also address the people on labor day at the fair.

"The trouble with the democratic party is, it is a party of statesmen without statesmanship, patriots without patriotism, heroes without heroism. Their policy begets farmers without farms, laborers without labor, freemen without freedom.—T. P. Gore, the blind orator.
